Love Hemp obtains BSCG certification

As the UK's leading CBD brand, we have been committed to the highest standards of quality control since we were established in 2015.

As a producer and supplier of more than 40 product lines, comprising of oils, sprays, topicals and a variety of edible CBD products, we are delighted to have received BSCG Certified approval from the Banned Substances Control Group, a leading third-party certification and testing provider of dietary supplements and natural products.

Tony Calamita, co-founder and CEO of Love Hemp, said: "We are delighted that Love Hemp has been accredited by the BSCG.

"Ever since we founded our CBD business we have been committed to the highest standards of quality control. We were one of the first British CBD companies to conduct third-party testing on all our products and have always been proud to share the results with our customers.

"Our customers buy from us because they trust our products and know that they contain zero THC.

"This certification increases consumer confidence and awareness of the Love Hemp brand and shows that our products meet strict specifications, are free of banned substances and that we have high quality control process."

Love Hemp has established relationships with over 2,000 stores in the UK, including leading retailers Holland & Barrett, Boots and Ocado.
